Important Progress Update:: Some Ascension members had the great pleasure of spending time this week with VillageLab's Core Consulting Team. Together this team draws on 60 years of combined experience living and working in intentional communities. Time will tell, but we hope to work with them in the future. The Universe is surely aligning some amazing energies to support the mission and vision the Ascension family has set out to create.

Progress Update: Some members of our team recently met with Charlie Sharman the CEO of PhotonSpace. They came in from the UK for a very special meeting which may benefit the Ascension community one day in realizing our visions of establishing permanent villages that have a very interesting health twist! Take a look below at this amazing new technology that has health benefits most of us probably never considered before. Watch the video for a full explanation from Charlie himself. We are working to get at least one of these out there for use by the community.

Bamboo houses! As Paul McCloud suggested and Jonathan Isaacs posted about below, we need to start thinking of areas on the property where we can plant large acres of Bamboo fields to grow the materials we need to build our villages and facilities out of! #Sustainable #LongTermThinking

I feel so compelled to share this heartfelt message that was sent to me. The energy that carried on from our first Ascension continued in a big way the other night when 28 members joined into our community update conference call. We have a shared collective vision and mission to see positive change take place within our lives, communities, and festival culture as we come together to develop a safe place for all of us to Learn, Create & Collaborate. Then coupled with messages we receive like the one below, is what motivates us and inspires the teams of dedicated people who came together to make what we all did this past May a reality. We all truly thank you for what you brought to this past Ascension and are continuing to bring.

Nicky!

Where to even begin! Well first, let me just say THANK YOU! What you and your team was able to create at Ascension was truly magical! I met so many wonderful, loving, talented and inspirational people at the event and we were able to connect in a truly meaningful way thanks to the carefully crafted event which encouraged people to be loving, open, and vulnerable....that's not easy to do but you managed to create a space that accomplished just that...no small feat!

Your long term vision for the event is also truly inspirational. However, what impressed me the most, was not just the vision itself (which makes me excited every time I think about it!) but the fact that it is rooted within a larger, practical plan. I think there are a lot of people in this world that can dream big but very few people that can take those dreams and come up with a concrete plan and model that is viable and sustainable in this day in age. So let's just say that I'm glad we have someone of your business and leadership skills on our side...smile emoticon!

As I mentioned at the event, the first thing that jumped to mind in regards to your property was getting synced up with UPISF and providing them information about your vision and property. If you do this, then you would have a team of Permaculture Design Students coming up with a proposal... often times that proposal will get iterated on multiple times each time they have the class...free design work for our community! Just a thought though and the reality is that I imagine you're already 10 steps ahead of where my thinking is...smile emoticon!

Thanks again for everything. You welcomed me, my girlfriend Ashley, and my roommate Dan with open arms on to your property, into your family and into your dreams. That means so much so I can't thank you enough.

Best of luck with everything my friend. I look forward to helping out where I can and to catching up again soon!

Paul
